Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID)

targets students in the academic middle–B, C, & even D students – with the desire to go to college & the willingness to work hard. Typically, they will be the first in their families to attend college, & come from groups traditionally underrepresented in higher education. These are students who are capable of completing rigorous curriculum but are falling short of their potential. AVID places these students on the college track, requiring them to enroll in the most rigorous courses that are appropriate for them, such as Honors & Advanced Placement®. To support them in the rigorous coursework, AVID students learn organizational & study skills, develop critical thinking, learn to ask probing questions, receive academic help from peers and college tutors, & participate in enrichment and motivational activities to make their college dreams reality.

Chuckle for the Day:

Dress Code

Employed by the human-development center of a corporation in the Midwest, my friend trains employees in proper dress codes and etiquette. One day as she was stepping onto the elevator, a man casually dressed in jeans and a golf shirt got on with her. Thinking of her responsibilities, she scolded, "Dressed a little casually today, aren't we?"

The man replied, "That's one of the benefits you get of owning the company."
